working at University of Wisconsin-Madison's Harlow Primate Lab which receives funding from you, the National Institutes of Health (NIH), to torture animals in the name of science. It's despicable that you continue to harm animals and call it progress when so many people are without the means to access mental healthcare, general healthcare, and medication that already exists.

What about Deaf, Hear Loss, and Hear handicapped/disabilities in too high 10 level great than non-handicapped zone level? I know all mental health counselors know nothing! Few mental health counselors stay STILL do not understand what do I am PTSD-Deaf, since I was little boy in elementary school small janitor room. It's abused/touch my body. 65 years to present, I am older man/still a fear of tense/freeze!

Norma Hostetler This is 100% false. If people had strong magnetic particles in their body, they would stick together, causing organ failure and death. Things stick to your skin because you are sweaty. I have been able to hang a spoon off the end of my nose since I was a child, and I never thought that it was a government conspiracy.

canadiancodems Please close the National Primate Research Centers (NPRCs) to become a major source of U.S.-bred primates for use in experiments. In these facilities—the California NPRC, Oregon NPRC, Southwest NPRC, Tulane NPRC, Washington NPRC, Wisconsin NPRC, and Yerkes NPRC—monkeys have been torn away from their mothers as infants, raised in complete darkness, restrained for hours at a time in psychological experiments, infected with lethal diseases, mutilated in experimental surgeries, and more. It's wrong.
